

Sammy and the Bullies

Sammy was a(n) _____ who got picked on by his schoolmates. "Hey, Sammy," they would (animal)

_____, "why don't you go _____ and then eat some _____ .
(verb) (verb) (plural noun)

Sammy decided to tell his teacher. He went to Miss Anteater's _____ and knocked on it with his (noun)

_____ .
(body part)

"What's the matter, Sammy," asked Miss Anteater sitting on her favorite _____. Sammy told her that the other animals had been _____ to him, and he wanted them to _____.
(noun)

(adjective) (verb)

"If you want the other animals to be nicer," said Miss Anteater, "you must be _____ and let (adjective)

them know that their teasing makes you feel like a _____ ."
(noun)

"That's a(n) _____ idea!" said Sammy, and he _____ as he walked over to the (adjective) (past tense verb)

_____ bullies. "Hey," said Sammy _____, "I just wanted to tell you that when (adjective) (adverb)

you _____, it makes me feel _____ (adjective)."
(verb) (adjective)

"Gee, Sammy," said the little _____, "We didn't know you were so _____ .
(animal) (adjective)

We'll never _____ again."
(verb)

And so the other animals invited Sammy to _____ with them. Sammy was so happy, (verb)

he celebrated by _____ _____ .
(present tense verb) (adverb)